

THE PATRIOT POST

1967 Heritage Hall Christian School Celebrating 50 years 2017

by the publications of the HHCS Communications Group

Quote of The Week

"Don't wait for the perfect moment, take that moment and make it perfect."

-Zoey Sayward-

~~~~~

Say Cheese!

Students and parents, don't forget PICTURE DAY is on Wednesday, September 7th.

~~~~~

#SSWC

This year's theme is Stand Strong with Courage. Administrator David Stein presented this theme to us this year. We encourage you to use #SSWC with school posts. Follow @hhcs_patriots on Instagram and like us on Facebook at Heritage Hall Christian School.

Country Fair 2016

Grab your hat and boots and make your way to the annual HHCS Country Fair on Friday, September 16th. Activities included in this year's fair are hay rides, cake walk, bouncy house, Jail, the dunk tank, and back by popular demand...CAR SMASH!!!

Also, now is a GREAT time to clean out your garage and set aside some donations for our annual Auction (No clothes donations please). Plan to bring the whole family and stay for dinner as we will have a wide variety of delicious food. Hope to see y'all there!

Patriot Sports

Congratulations Patriots! The Varsity soccer team won their first CICC conference match of the season with a whopping score of 7-1 starting out the game with a gorgeous header and score by Isaac McKee. GO PATRIOTS!

Way to go Lady Patriots! It was an exciting game Tuesday night. The Varsity volleyball team won a close match against ICA, winning in five sets. Wish them luck as they take on Crosspointe Christian Academy Friday night in a CICC conference match.

Senior Sponsored CAR WASH!

Have you been wanting to get that car of yours washed up but haven't found the time to do it? Come on out to HHCS on Friday September 16 between 11:30-5:30 for our Senior FREE Car Wash!! Don't miss out!

Have a Laugh...

There are 3 types of people in this world, people who are good at math and those who aren't

How does Moses make his tea? Hebrews it.

Why were the teacher's eyes crossed? She couldn't control her pupils!

Why was the students report card all wet? Because it was below C (sea) level.

Be Our Friends!

Maggots, Misery, and Mrs. Brown

It's amazing the change, from confident sixth graders who rule the playground to small, quiet seventh graders without a name, that comes from moving across the street. They were twelve and on top of the world, now they are lost, little first-floor dwellers whose only identification is the all-encompassing title "Maggot". The life of the new secondary students is rough, but they've survived the first two weeks with minimal difficulties.

Of course, the first difficulty to be overcome is the locker. They twist in two directions with a multitude of digits, but O, how do they open? Once this issue is resolved finding the right class is rather important, especially if you want more than a zero percent in the subject. After a poll, it was found that no seventh graders got lost going to classes this year. That may be a first in all our fifty years, after all, those stairs can move on you.

If all these obstacles are overcome then only one major one remains, the terrible teachers. With their dry-as-the-Sahara jokes and endless homework assignments, they don't seem that great at first. In another unbiased poll of select seventh graders, Mrs. Brown came up as the favorite teacher. How this came to be with all her swinging swords, flying erasers, booming voice following you down the halls, and split infinitives I'll never know, but the seventh graders have voted and, for maybe the only time this year, we're listening.

In all seriousness, we really are glad the maggots made their way over to the secondary side. They may feel confused and often helpless but they've got an entire support group behind them, no matter how much we may poke fun.

Article by Seth Johnson